THE LUX RANDOM PLANK

The Random Plank wall cladding is a product of meticulous craftsmanship that joins together easily to form a sophisticated architectural panel.

The Random Plank can be created in any of the LUX colours. This product has been immensely successful in finding its place on contemporary residential, multi-unit residential and even as an indoor fireplace surround.

LUXLAP

The LUXLAP Panel is sold by the box, and it's available in 6 woodgrain and 5 knotty woodgrain colours in 4" and 6" V-Groove profiles. The 4" profile contains ten 12' long panels covering 40sq. ft. and the 6" profiles contains eight 12' long panels covering 48sq. ft. LUXLAP fits perfectly into the next panel meaning that it can be installed without interruption by a joiner trim or unsightly butt joint. Unlike other metal cladding systems, LUXLAP's interlocking design and 24 gauge steel gives you superior rigidity and hidden seams at infinite lengths.

Ply Gem PVC Trim

PVC does not absorb water, so it won't rot, warp or split. PVC trim board can be cut, drilled and routed like wood. You can even install them to grade or against concrete.

Trim Boards

PVC trim board can be cut, drilled & routed like wood. These are also available as sheets (smooth/smooth or woodgrain/smooth) or as notched bead board. They can be used for fascia, frieze boards, window and door trim, deck edging, and decorative accents.

Skirt Boards

PVC skirt boards provide the finishing touch without the worries of water damage. The sloped top drains water away from the house, making it the ideal border for fiber cement and other composite siding materials. Available in smooth or woodgrain.

Mouldings

Mouldings are a long-lasting alternative to wood accent trim and are available in shapes that enhance any home's style, in gables around windows and doors, or wherever you desire. Drip Cap, Shingle Mould, Rams Crown, Bead Board, Inside Corner, Historic Sill and Brick Mould are all available.

Corners

One-piece outside corners provide a square edge with no unsightly, rough seams. Available in smooth or woodgrain finish.

NES Certification: Mitten has received confirmation by the National Evaluation Service, Inc.
